Dear Rudy Hartono, Rusli Rusli, Mira Andini, Aswita Amir,

I am pleased to inform you that your manuscript titled as "OVERWEIGHT AND OBES: THE IMPACT OF LACTOBACILLUS CASEI STRAIN SHIROTA ON CHOLESTEROL AND WEIGHT OF CHILDREN IN THE PANDEMIC TIME COVID-19" (Manuscript Number: SRP-2020-11-1928) was accepted for publication in the Systematic Reviews in Pharmacy. Reviewer's comments are as below:

Reviewer's Comments:

1-Although use of this bacterial strain can be effective to control overweight, but these bacterial strains can become ineffective, if there is no change in life style.

2-Nowadays, use of artificial sweetener has become common habit with the believe that they nonfating agents specially sucralose (splenda). Recent research has indicated that use of artificial sweetener can increase bacterial population in gut. Increase in bacterial population can increase calorie extraction from food, which cause production of fat and increase level of appetite hormone and that develop glucose intolerance, which ultimately cause Obesity and type II diabetes.

3-Article is accepted for publication

You could check your possible publication date at your author page.

You may login to your author account page, and visit accepted articles section in order to get official/formal acceptance letter as PDF.

I would like to remind that you could send your future manuscripts to Systematic Reviews in Pharmacy.
